The Brookfield Harvest.

[New York Times.]

The Rev. Mr. Sawyer, of West Brookfield, Vt., possesses a unique treasure in the person of a small boy whose inventive powers and devotion to his parents have rarely been paralleled. "He is not precisely what you would call a good boy," remarked his father on one occasion, when his son was led home by the ear by an irate minister of the Methodist denomination, and charged with having fastened thirty-two distinct cats in the minister's study, "but his heart is full of love for whatever is just and right." This eulogy was fully merited, for, although Master Sawyer was in no respect like the good small boy of literature, he lately did a wise and noble act, for which the language of ordinary praise is far too feeble.

In Northern Vermont that peculiar form of social outrage formerly known as a "surprise party," but of late commonly called a "Bulgarian atrocity," is still lamentably frequent. On a cold evening in the first week of the present month Mr. Sawyer and his family were seated quietly by their social hearth, enjoying one another's society. The clergyman was reading aloud the Bishop's pastoral letter; his wife was busy calculating how to cut up her husband's old overcoat so as to supply him with a new waistcoat, herself with a new overskirt, and Master Sawyer with a new pair of trousers, while that excellent small boy was reading the improving adventures of an eminent pirate, and wondering whether he would ever be able to emulate them. Not one of the family was prepared to receive visitors. Mr. Sawyer had on his dressing gown and slippers; Mrs. Sawyer had let down her back hair to give freedom to her mental processes, and Master Sawyer had temporarily slipped off his trousers to supply his mother with a pattern, while he wrapped the hearth-rug about him. Suddenly, and without the least warning, more than four dozen people of all kinds and sexes, including men, women, reformers and theological students, burst into the room, carrying cake and devastation with them. Master Sawyer fled howling; the clergyman pushed back his spectacles and tried to smile a ghastly smile; and his heroic wife, by hurriedly twisting her back hair with both hands, and holding her comb between her teeth, managed to avoid uttering the welcome which the invaders expected, but which her conscience forbade her to express.

The marauders conducted themselves after the usual custom of their kind. They conversed with one another with great hilarity, ignoring the suffering of the clergyman and his wife. They spread their cake upon the table, and, devouring it without plates, scattered the crumbs over the new carpet. One young man, having laid a large piece of jelly-cake on the sofa, subsequently sat down on it, and Mrs. Sawyer felt that she would gladly join the Church of Rome on condition that the medicinal tortures of the Inquisition should be revived and she herself delegated to apply them to that particular young man. After having reduced the furniture to that state of grease that it was no longer safe to sit down, the miscreants gathered around the piano and sang, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" until Mr. Sawyer, mild as he was, regretted that he could not take a scythe and reap an immediate and bloody harvest.

While those blood-curdling outrages were in progress in the parlor, the good small boy kept himself carefully out of the room. He was not, however, wasting his time in idle rage. He too, heard the melodious inquiries as to the harvest, and remarked to himself that they would find out all about the harvest if they would only wait a few minutes. Meanwhile he was busily engaged in carrying pails of water and emptying them on the front step and along the walk leading from the front door to the gate. The night was cold, and the water froze rapidly. Under his admirable management the ice acquired an unusually smooth and slippery character, and when the work was thoroughly done, the small boy retired to the second-story front window and waited for the surprise-party to break up.

The moon was at the full, and shone brightly when the first pair of miscreants—the young man who sat down on the jelly-cake and a heavy young lady, to whom he was affianced—issued from the front door, and instantly sat down with tremendous emphasis. Close behind them came the rest of the raiders, who with one accord strewn themselves over the ground, until in some places they were collected three or four deep. The shrieks of the ladies and the stronger remarks of the men filled the air. No sooner would a struggling wretch regain his feet than he would sit down again with renewed violence. The affrighted clergyman and his wife gazed with wonder at the appalling spectacle, and the good small boy never ceased to sing "What Shall the Harvest Be?" at the very top of his lungs.

Although only three persons sustained fatal injuries, there was scarcely a member of the party who escaped without more or less serious wounds either of body or clothing. Seventeen legs, two ribs six arms and a nose were broken; five ankles and six wrists were sprained, and one shoulder dislocated. The icy pavement was strewn with fragments of teeth, spectacles, coats, trousers and skirts. Master Sawyer picked up enough copper and silver change next morning to enable him to buy twelve tickets in a raffle for a broken shot-gun, and to subscribe handsomely to the Missionary fund. It is generally believed that there will be another surprise party in Brookfield, and it under contemplation among middle-aged householders to present Master Sawyer with a service of marbles and a life membership in the Foreign Missionary Society, as a testimonial of their esteem.

THE "WASHOE SEEKERS."—Over four months ago Mr. G. L. Whitney, a resident of this city, lost a valuable gold watch chain. After a diligent but fruitless search for the lost chain he concluded to call on Mrs. Bowers, known as the "Washoe Seekers," to ascertain whether she could give him any clue to the missing treasure. He informed her in advance that he believed a Chinaman formerly in his employ had stolen the chain. Mrs. Bowers directed him to search carefully in a pile of rubbish in one of the rooms of his house, which was undergoing repairs, and he would find the lost chain. Although having but little confidence in her prediction he did as directed, and after poking over the rubbish pile for a couple of hours, he was rewarded by finding the object looked for. Mr. Whitney states that he is willing to make an affidavit to the facts as related above.—Va. Enterprise.

Our Critics.

The San Francisco journals are nothing if not racy. It seems that each one has chosen some particular class and follows its lead faithfully in order to retain the almighty subscription. The most conspicuous one takes up the rabble, and knowing its indecent and disorderly proclivities, reproduces for these readers the amusements and riotous events of every day life—events indeed which should be remembered only by the law officers. Another covers the schemes of that portion of the business community which makes his own advertising schemes possible. Another takes what he can get of the legitimate business, and depends mainly upon the illegitimate, holding his paper in amiable readiness to sell out when anybody rattles the coin. No new departure is inaugurated in San Francisco without an organ devoted to its work. Even the Kearney crowd have an organ. The Spring Valley faction has several. The Gas Monopoly has several engaged, and we know of but one paper in San Francisco which even stimulates independent action. These compliments are gratuitous of course, and they are induced by a reading of the virtuous indignation expressed by these paudrers, against Nevada as a State and the Nevada Press as a faithful public servant. We do not believe there is a weekly paper published in any mining camp of this State which does not possess more conscience than the dailies of San Francisco. Nevada may be the "rotten borough," but its journalists should not be reproved too severely by such as we have mentioned.

The Silver State contradicts the assertion that Humboldt county is all office seeking, and says that John H. Kinkead will have a good following from the east to support his claim for the gubernatorial nomination. The same paper gives some prominence also to the workingmen's movement lately inaugurated.

We have heard the highest praise awarded John H. Kinkead for his integrity and gentlemanly qualities, and incline to agree with the Silver State, in saying that he will not enter a campaign without developing a considerable strength.

Out in the great east there is trouble brewing for the rice-eater. In Eureka, Winnemucca, Tuscarora and Austin, the workingman is girding up his loins, and preparing for a vigorous campaign against the worshipers of Jess. The general sentiment says, "The Chinese must go," and John is no doubt preparing to take in his sign. The newspapers are encouraging it and it is known to us that several editors contemplate the incorporation of a great laundry association as soon as John checks his trunk. The aged rag-picker at Rye Patch has received his conge.

Rooms are reserved for Kearney at the Napa Insane Asylum and in due time they will have him for an occupant. When the death of Honorable Clarence Upton was announced at San Jose, the boss agitator threw up his hands and thanked God for the new vacancy.—Ez.

There is a vacancy in the State Prison for which many an agitator should be thankful. Rioters fill vacancies in the State Prison more gracefully than in the Legislature. Witness Bones.

George Francis Train, the most erratic worshiper of idiosyncrasies known to the civilized world, has retired from public life. His last act was the signing of a petition in favor of female suffrage. It will be seen by this record that George's vigorous mind has evaporated, and that he can no longer be depended upon for the suitable illustration of idocy.

The President has nominated Chas. Silent of California, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona Territory.—Ez.

There! we'll not mention it, but if any cotem can't see an opening for an excellent bit of humor in that item, we'll explain by mail.

The Carson Appeal speaks of the high reputation enjoyed by Hon. Sam Wright in his official capacity of Receiver of the U. S. Land Office. We concur.

The Reveille learns that Mamie, daughter of the Hon. G. W. Cassidy, is at the point of death.

St. Valentine's Day.

To-morrow will be St. Valentine's day. This evening is the time when, according to old custom, the real amusement of St. Valentine begins. In the present age we do not as pleasantly nor as completely observe this holiday as did our ancestors in the early centuries. But it is interesting to note that a custom, ages ago inaugurated, yet has a hold upon young people—another illustration of the truth of an old expression—"The present rich with the spoils of time." We are intimately bound up with the past. The people of this age are prone to believe those of preceding centuries were but the emerging fragments of a barbarous age. A glance over the pages of history will relieve one, says President Merriman, of this conceit. Intimately mingled with and comprising a part of our social fabric are the partially refined accumulations of the past. Says Chancellor Kent: "The literature of the present day, rich with the spoils of time—instructs by the aid of the accumulated wisdom of ages." Therefore it may not be amiss in us to say a few words in reference to the origin of a custom anciently rich with enjoyment for young men and maidens. In this irreverent age we are always questioning the history of the past, exhuming counter traditions, and scarcely satisfied when we find nothing objectionable to urge against the transmissions of those who have so largely added to the reverent world of thought and the aged empire of matter. Hence we find two versions of the custom of which we speak. St. Valentine, it is asserted, was a Bishop who lived in Rome during the reign of Claudius, and who was beheaded by that tyrant about the year 270. St. Valentine is described by one, as a "man of most admirable parts, and so famous for his love and charity that the custom of choosing valentines upon his festival took its rise from thence." Again it is stated that the practice grew out of the fact that birds about this time chose their mates. And lastly it is presumed by some that the observance of this holiday arose from a practice prevalent in ancient Rome at the festival of the Lupercalia, during the month of February, when among other ceremonies, the names of young women were placed in a box, and drawn therefrom, as chance directed, by young men.

The early churchmen of course attempted to prevent the young folks from enjoying themselves, but the most they could accomplish was to change in form the celebration of St. Valentine's Day. It was the custom on the eve of February 14th to have the names of a select number of one sex put into a vessel by an equal number of the opposite sex, and thereupon everyone draw a name which for the time being was called his or her valentine. This custom would create not a little amusement in this day. A party of young ladies and gentlemen might meet this evening at a friend's house, select their valentines, and spend the evening in dancing, card-playing, etc. Formerly it was the custom to make presents of jewelry, gloves, books, etc. We have now degenerated into the practice of sending comic or fearfully sentimental "valentines." A few cowards make this day an occasion to send to those against whom they entertain an ill will, a mean insinuating daub picture underneath which a few doggeral lines are found. The best amusement lies in buying a good comic valentine and sending it to a friend. Even this, however, appears silly. At all events, let your enemies, if you have any, alone. If you want to cover one with the slime of abuse go to him personally, else retributive winds will turn your vile excretions upon yourself. A pleasant lot of valentines to our youthful readers tomorrow morning.

An Eastern paper having said that a woman named Nickel had presented her husband with a pledge of affection, and that, he not being a bloated bondholder, had accepted the little nickel as a legal tender, Will Green, of the Colusa Sun, states that he has been receiving small greenbacks at par ever since the beginning of the war.

At the next election in San Francisco there will be three tickets: Republican, Democratic and Workingmen, the attempt to organize a citizens union having failed. The platform of the first will be strong, the second watery (Spring Valley) and the third Hemp. Kearney still lives.

A HOAX, PERHAPS.—The following dispatch was received yesterday afternoon:

EUREKA, Feb. 9.
O. L. C. Fairchild: John Dennis got his right leg broken to-day accidentally. Will write by mail.
F. LASPEYRE.

When our junior left here a fortnight ago he remarked that he would return in a week or break a leg, and knowing him to be a person of the strictest integrity, we think, perhaps, he has chosen the latter alternative. But its dollars to quarters that at the present writing he is engaged in a quiet game of "cinch" in the parlors of Charcoal Flat. At any rate we hope he is enjoying himself, and that no accident has befallen him.—Times-Review.

They pledge 'em now in San Francisco after this fashion. The signer agrees, "God helping him hereafter, to abstain from dealing in mining stocks." In consideration then, of a point hereafter the thrifty church deacon must now go back to the legitimate, and we predict that church debts will increase rapidly. It is not stated whether this reformation was inaugurated by a "soul yearning" after the inwardness of uprightness—or by the late clinch in Alta. Our Picton now goes under the hammer.

Now that Romualdo Pacheco has been left out in the cold and Wington huffed to the Congressional bosom, the San Jose Mercury flies this at the head of its editorial column: For Congressman of the Fourth District of California in 1879, Romualdo Pacheco, a man swindled out of his seat by a Democratic House of Representatives.

The newspapers in the western end of the State have persisted in referring to Washoe county as the best governed in the State, but viewing things from the Grand Jury's report, we beg to be excused from having any more such "taffy" forced upon us. It is estimated that $18,000 per year has been expended in excess of a munificent income.—Times-Review.

Hawthorn said that "manual labor was part of the primeval curse," and that "it brutified whoever had to do with it." Hawthorn made a slight mistake, and the thousands who have taken his word for this matter are very frequently hungry if never brutified.

The Enterprise disclaims any intention of expressing any opinion upon Washoe county matters. That journal sometimes expresses opinions without knowing it.

The whole force at the Chatham (England) dock yard, numbering 4,000 men, has begun working extra hours to complete the vessels in hand.

The brig Carrie Winslow and ship British America collided at the entrance of New York harbor yesterday, sinking the former immediately.

Leaf's Yeast Cakes are pure bakers' stock yeast—don't fail to try them.

PROBATE NOTICE.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, held in and for the County of Washoe.

In the matter of the Estate of LEONARD C. SAVAGE, deceased.

In pursuance of an order of the above entitled Court, duly made and entered in open Court on the Thirtieth day of February, A. D. 1878, notice is hereby given that MONDAY, the Twenty-Fifth day of February, A. D. 1878, at 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the Court Room of said Court, at the Court House, in Reno, County of Washoe, has been appointed for hearing the application of Katie Savage, praying that a document now on file in said Court, purporting to be the last will and testament of Leonard C. Savage, deceased, be admitted to probate, and that letters testamentary be issued thereon to said Katie Savage, who is named therein as Executrix; at which time and place all persons interested may appear and contest the same.

In Testimony Whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court, this 13th day of February, A. D. 1878.

FANCY AND STAPLE

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

LYCEUM.—The attendance at the Lyceum last evening was slim on the part of the members, but excellent on the part of lady and gentleman visitors. A very interesting question was before the House, but we give it as our opinion that not a gentleman who addressed the Chair was satisfied with the preparation he had given the Army Bill. This lyceum may be made a source of much instruction and improvement to its members, and affords a desirable means of entertainment to visitors, but there must be a deeper interest taken by the members than is now being taken by them. The only question is, will the members do their duty by the Society or shall the only literary club in town go completely down.

The next prominent question to come before the Lyceum is the Polygamous practice in Utah. Also that of the contested seat of Representative Mann from Utah. One John Smith has appeared upon the scene and claims the seat now occupied by S. A. Mann. It is supposed that this is merely a filibustering move to postpone or quash any proceedings under the pending motion on Polygamy. Representative Mann was interviewed by our reporter last night at a late hour, and stated that he was in possession of information which would prove that Smith was a Mormon. He will introduce this proof at an early day, and also take up his resolution introduced at last meeting declaring Smith a knave and usurper. Hot times may be looked for, as a large and well-supplied lobby will be in attendance to defeat the resolutions. Success to Mann, say we.

ANOTHER MURDER CASE.—And now Washoe county is to have another long murder trial. James Harrington, who murdered a man several months ago in Virginia City, the circumstance of which murder we then gave to our readers, will be sent to Reno in a very short time, confined in our county jail and tried for the crime of which he is accused at the April term of the District Court. The change of venue has the general effect to delay or defeat justice. It is to be hoped that Harrington will receive his just deserts. He may be brought down this evening unless it is thought our jail unsafe.

The "pure air of heaven" has been subjected to a severe ordeal of late by the gentleman in charge of the weather. Last evening it was clear. This morning several inches of snow covered the ground. By noon most of the snow had melted and the streets make exceedingly muddy, while there are but few sidewalks to relieve the embarrassment of the situation. This afternoon a chilling wind blows from the west and at three o'clock a light snow was falling. By twelve to-night the sun may be shining.

No reliable news has yet been heard from John Laffin or Ah Ham, two of the prisoners who broke jail last Sunday night. The party seen in Pleasant Valley, and who was traveling toward Steamboat was only supposed to be Laffin. Sheriff Lamb is using every endeavor to find the fugitive, but we regret our inability to state that Laffin has positively been seen by any one since he broke jail.

The District was Court opened this morning, and the libel suit of Wm. Thompson vs. C. C. Powning called. Judge Lewis, one of the counsel for the defendant was quite indisposed and asked that the case be postponed, until next Friday, which was granted. Court then adjourned until the 15th instant.

The boys of "48" are making every preparation to give a successful ball on the evening of the 22d. The object of this ball is to buy a hose cart for the new hose belonging to this company.

Messrs. Osburn & Shoemaker have secured a place for a few interesting statements in our local columns. The reader's attention is called to these gentlemen's local ad.

Hope deferred maketh the heart sick, but fried oysters at the Saddle Rock will cure anything.

There is a very large crop of correspondents already for the knife.

Jottings.

T. J. Arnold will give up his pastorate here and tarry at the Indian reservation in future. If he can introduce baptism among the Indians he will do good work.

Ah Chooy, the murderer and incendiary who operated upon a Chinese wash-house in the Western Addition, is in Virginia. He flourishes his scimitar and craves another country man to carve.

Praise service to-night at the Congregational Church.

Linderman writes to say that he wants to collect a Cabinet for the Mint Bureau. We have no objections.

Col. J. C. Dow, formerly of Reno, is a prominent theme with our Eastern cotema. They want him to stand for the dear people. He may yield.

$410,121 40 was the amount of bullion from the Bonanzas last night.

The mutinous soldiers which passed here Sunday night were recruits, and a portion were bound for Arizona.

The old stiffs note with pleasure any signs of approaching Spring. Candidates will be ripe then.

Rover was much incensed at the action taken by the Board of Pardons, notwithstanding his promised indifference.

Harrington, the slayer of Sullivan, has secured a change of venue, and will be tried in Washoe county. How many, Oh Lord?

The Reville says that Austin has had no winter yet. We've had plenty.

Judge Leonard did not participate in the deliberations upon Rover's case.

"Music hath charms to sooth savages" but that does not insinuate anything against the fresh family groceries kept by Salisbury and Wetherill.

Very little damage was done to engine "Reno" which ran off the track with the passenger train Monday evening near Carson. The switch being open is thought to have been the work of some malicious person.

THE BOARD OF PARDONS.—General Clarke's arguments for the commutation of Rover's sentence lasted all day Monday, and late into the night, closing with a vigorous appeal for mercy and justice to the friendless man. The Board adjourned until Tuesday morning, when District Attorney Cain, of Washoe County, took up the State's case, and reviewing the testimony made a strong plea against commutation. His argument lasted until noon, and as the sequel shows, fully satisfied the Board that Rover was guilty of murdering Isaac N. Sharp. At the conclusion of Cain's argument a short recess was taken, and on reconvening a private consultation was had, and finally a vote taken, resulting in a unanimous vote against commutation, even Governor Bradley voting against the petition.

The Sheriff is using every precaution to keep Rover from injuring himself or anyone else. He is now confined in a cell in which there is nothing but a few bed-clothes and a mattress. He has no knife or fork, or has he any instrument by which he could in any way do himself the least injury. He expressed regret that he didn't "crawl through that hole," but remarked with the tone of a wretched man, "They can kill me now just as quick as they please."

Osburn & Shoemaker, wholesale and retail druggists, Commercial Row, Reno. (Removed to one door west of their old stand.) Now offer everything from their large stock at the lowest possible rates. Paints, oils, varnishes, glassware, lamps and lamp fixtures, patent medicines, fancy and toilet articles, bird cages, picture frames and pictures and combs moulding, etc. The largest and best assortment ever offered in this market. 2-13tf.

About 1,500 pounds of Pyramid trout were shipped this morning to the Virginia City. These trout sell in the Comstock market for 25 to 30 cents per pound, thus giving our fishermen a neat profit on their labor.

Brookins & Co., S. M. Jamison and Chas Knust have a stock of valentines for sale. The ardent ones and the lovers of fun will govern themselves accordingly.

The telegraph and ticket offices at Washoe City and Mills Station on the V. & T. R. R. have been discontinued. Franktown now has the only railroad and telegraph office in Washoe Valley.

At Osburn & Shoemaker's drug store, prescriptions—at prices to suit the times—are prepared at all hours of the day and night, by a regular graduate of a college of Pharmacy. 2-13tf.

CARD OF THANKS.

We, the undersigned, wish to tender our thanks to Mr. J. A. Brunway, State Agent and Mr. James H. Marshall, City Agent of the Home Mutual Fire Insurance Company of San Francisco, for the highly satisfactory and unprecedented manner in which the representatives of the above named Company have settled their portion of the loss which we sustained at the late fire on Friable's corner. We state with pleasure in recommending the Home Mutual Insurance Company to the insuring public for honest, square, and highest dealing. IVANOVICH BROS. [Carson Appeal, Jan. 28, 1878.]

INSURE in the Home Mutual. If your property is destroyed by fire and you are fortunate enough to hold one of our policies, your money is ready and paid when you most need it. No litigation or trouble. ALLEN C. BRAGO, Agent. Reno, Jan. 29, 1878-4f

NEW COMERS.—Tandy & Cook respectfully inform the citizens of Reno that they have leased the Budden photograph gallery for a short time, and will be pleased to receive the patronage of all who are desiring to get first class pictures of themselves. We guarantee our work to be equal in tone and finish to that produced at the first galleries of San Francisco. We will remain in Reno but a few weeks, and feel confident that we will satisfy all who may favor us with their patronage during that time. Respectfully, TANDY & COOK. 1-24tf
